Youth and Family Center

Dear Friends,

Thank you to all for your ongoing support and contributions. The Youth and Family Center has been making great strides in achieving our goals for this community. We have recently re-launched our website, redesigned some of our programs, and opened a brand new location so that we are better able to serve the St. Louis community.

Our new website provides more information about our various programs and services. There are resources for everybody, whether you want to participate, volunteer, or support us in any way. Please also contact us with any other questions.

I want to personally thank everyone who has helped in these efforts to improve the organization and the community. To my staff, the board, all volunteers, and of course, all participants -- we all hope to continue providing the services and programs to better serve our current and future participants. Thank you and we look forward to seeing how much we can accomplish with the "new" Youth and Family Center.

Sincerely,
